

TEETH IN TEETH OUT

SET IN A DOCTORS OFFICE.
THE SCENE OPENS WITH THE DOCTOR SAT AT HIS DESK AND AN OLD
GENTLEMAN FASTENING
HIS SHIRT AFTER AN EXAMINATION

DOC: Well Mr Johnson I have to say you're twice as fit as a man half your age. Quite remarkable really.

MR.J: Is that everything Doctor?

DOC: I think so. Let me see (LOOKING AT HIS CLIPBOARD) . Blood pressure, heart, lungs, ECG, MRI, liver, kidneys, bowels. Yep, I think that's everything.

MR.J: What about sperm count?

DOC: I beg your pardon?

MR.J: What about my sperm count? You haven't done that.

DOC: But, Mr. Johnson you're eighty seven.

MR.J: I am paying for this examination and I want everything, but, everything checked.

DOC: Very well. (TAKES OUT A GLAS JAR) Take this home and bring me back a sample tomorrow.

MR.J. EXITS. LIGHTS
BLACKOUT BRIEFLY AND RETURN.
MR.J. ENTERS

DOC: Good morning Mr. Johnson. Have you got the sample?

MR.J: Not exactly doctor. (PUTS TE EMPTY JAR ON THE DESK)

DOC: Did you have some difficulty?

MR.J: I'll say. We had the devils own job. I went home from here and I thought strike while the iron is hot. So, I tried it with my right hand. No luck. I tried it with my left hand. Nothing.

DOC: Oh dear.

MR.J:

I said to Mrs. Johnson, I said, Doris you'll have to have a go. She tried it with her right hand and she tried it with her left hand. Still nothing. She tried it with her teeth in. She tried it with her teeth out. We still couldn't get the lid off.
